The Easter Hat

Oh, Easter hat, of thee I sing
Thou art a most deceiving thing.
A ten-cent frame, five yards of lace,
A rooster's tail in foremost place.
The total cost is ninety cents,
That is to say the first expense.
They place it in the window and
The women say it's "simply grand."
The price they charge, and to relate,
We've got to pay $12.98.

Easter Sunday Services

At the Presbyterian church, Rev. W. McViehol, preached both the morning and evening services and in each case was master of his subject. The singing, at each meeting and the after meeting, was some of the finest heard here by local talent. Songs were sung by Misses E. Knight, E. Moffatt and H. Strang. At the evening service Miss Strang, who was the soloist, sang "I Know That My Redeemer." Master W. Haig also sang "Angels Ever Bright and Fair," and Mr. Abel of the Agricultural College gave a violin solo which was much appreciated by all.

Cancelled

"The Holy City" which was to be played here on May 8th has been cancelled owing to the illness of the leading lady's mother who had to leave the company and it is now too late in the season to bring on any new articles from New York. The Holy City was considered one of the best attractions on the road and we regret very much that it is not coming. Shuman and Astleworth of Calgary however assure us that they will give us new offerings in the fall and have five plays ready for rehearsal by July.

DIED

We regret to have to announce the death of Mrs. K. Peck who passed away on Tuesday last about midnight after being operated on during that night. Mrs. Peck gave birth to a baby boy on Friday last about 6 p.m. and both mother and son appeared to be doing well; however serious internal complication took place and upon medical advice it was absolutely necessary to perform as was thought a slight operation. Dr. McKeehan of Calgary arrived on the noon train (of Calgary) and operated assisted by Dr. McKeehan of Gratum and Dr. Stevens. Mrs. Peck appeared for a few hours to have passed through the operation, but at 11 o'clock she began to sink and at midnight passed away.

The deceased was born at Bono Regis Dorsetshire, England and spent the early part of her life in Wimbome Dorset where at her home she became acquainted with Mr. Peck. She afterwards resided at Cardiff, Wales, and from there about fifteen years ago crossed to Canada to become Mrs. Peck. The marriage taking place in Winnipeg. Their first year was spent at Pipestone where Mr. Peck was engaged in the Methodist ministry. From there they moved to Emerson and about nine years ago came to Claresholm taking charge of the church here. During his ministry the church and parsonage was built and Mrs. Peck was a helper in all kinds of church work always doing her part in connection with the Ladies Aid and the W. C. T. U. of which she was the treasurer.

Recently she has not been enjoying good health and with her little family has consequently not been able to do as much. She leaves four little children the oldest only eight years, a brother Mr. J. W. Hallett of Claresholm, a sister Mrs. H. Duffy of Brunette and her husband R. K. Peck as well as the many friends in this vicinity to mourn. The funeral took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock and on Sunday a memorial service was held in the Methodist Church.

Claresholm Once More the Victors

On Monday last four cars took the Claresholm football team to Starely and returned before supper with a winning team, the score being one to nothing. The game was clean and, fairly fast all the time. A lot of the time was spent in throwing the ball on the field as a very strong wind was blowing from the west thus keeping the ball on the east of the field nearly all the time. Claresholm by no means had the game their way. Caruthwait and Bateman were missed on backs, Scotty gave the kick that scored the only goal and also a few more close ones. The game was over at five.

The Rural Church

The rural church and the country minister are both undergoing keen inspection at the present time. Some striking results are shown by a survey of rural churches in Ohio recently conducted by the Presbyterian Church. Of 1,615 churches, less than one-third were found to be growing. Some ministers divided their time among four, five or six churches, while one poor man was trying to serve seven communities preaching 119 times in 123 consecutive days in an attempt to overcome his herculean task.

"Not until a church has at least 100 members does it have an even chance to survive.

"The first change against country churches is the charge of ministerial vivisection. Only 4 per cent of those country churches have resident pastors who serve one church each on full time."

To Hunters

A letter was received today from the office of the chief Game Guardian which said. Any one residing to the south of Parallel 55, who are not farmers residing on their farm or members of such farmer's family residing with him on the farm require a license for hunting or shooting any game birds. This is in addition to the season for ducks and swan are a little later being from September 1st until December 31st. Game may be shot at any time except Sundays, and between one hour after sunset and one hour before sunrise. The Residents Birds Game License is now $2.25 instead of $1.25 as before. The Fox season is now closed from April 1st until November 1st each year.

Why Not the Better Kind?

Just as long as a dairyman knows only the production of all his cows, just so long will he be without the necessary incentive to take steps for hard improvement. But when he knows his cows individually as to production and cost of feed, then can he obtain his abundant and economical products.

The general results as applied to a district are all of suggestion. In one of 422 cows belonging to 42 men the average yield last year was found to be 4,494 pounds of milk, the cost of the feed $32.90; thus, simply taking cost of feed into consideration, leaving a net profit of $14.28. But a slight investigation showed that the 100 best cows produced milk to the value of $7,137.00, the 100 poorest cows produced only $2,800.00, or much less than half as much.

The best cows were fed at an average cost of $38.42, leaving a clear profit of $32.90 each; the poorest cost $50.20 to feed, returning a clear profit above the cost of feed of only $1.74 each.

It thus is evident that each one of the best cows made as much clear profit on the milk produced as that given by eighteen of the poorest.

Why not keep the better kind? It pays to find out which kind are in your herd. Milk and feed records may be obtained free on application to Dairy Commissioner, Ottawa.

BULLET AND BIBLE.

One Tried to Take a Man's Life, While the Other Saved It.

To illustrate the bullet reaction upon a person, a veteran soldier respondent brought for the inspection of some of his journalistic colleagues a photograph of a bullet which had passed through a Bible, each of which on separate occasions had been instructed in giving life to a man in the course of the Russo-Turkish war.

In one instance he was knocked off his horse by the impact of a bullet and became unconscious, only to find on regaining his senses that the friendly bullet had prevented the bullet entering his body. On the second occasion, at Vienna, the Bible, which he had placed in a side pocket, deflected a heavy bullet of shrapnel that threatened to end his existence.

He had kept the wallet intact as a memento of his escape, and one of the journalists who was examining his God-sent escape, by a curious coincidence, upon a letter which he himself had mailed to the war correspondent some thirty or forty years ago, the very existence of which he had not even forgotten.

In the letter he had expressed the hope that his friend would never see and sound from the seat of war. The words "safe and sound" had been almost cut away by the bullet, which, owing to the providential interposition of the bundle of papers, would probably have ended the war correspondence life—Nottingham Guardian.

GOOD ROADS AND TRIFT.

France Sets an Example the Rest of the World Might Follow.

Good farms and good roads go together. Good roads mean cheaper hauling prices, better produce—therefore more money for the farmer. The wealth of his population. The population of the country of France is estimated at thirty millions, but is poorer stricken and the best provided for of any country in the world. And this is due to the fact that the country has a better road system and more good roads in proportion to its area than any other country of the world or greater size. How France has built her wealth through its good roads or the good roads because of its thirty years?

It is, therefore, for us in this country to look upon France not as a model, but as a guide. It is not the example, but as the example of the fulfillment of dreams. We cannot solve our problem in any other way than as France has solved hers with any surety of success. She builds her nation's highways first, and then, controls them, repairs them. She has her departments—her divisions corresponding to our states—build their own roads as feeders of this system, connecting with it, joining without road to national road. Finally her provinces or communes—similar political divisions—our counties—build their own roads, intersecting, connecting and bringing the whole into one vast network of hard surfaced roads—Sub urban Life.

Microscopic Handwriting. It is possible to possess a certain degree of penmanship and yet be almost undecipherable as a writer. A distinguished literary man, whose name I mercifully withhold, writes a microscopic small hand, almost illegible in its outline and possessing a quite elfin elusiveness—almost every word can be read as some other word. Wagstaff letters who received from his letters on commonplace matters would sometimes affect to regard them as descriptions of his exciting narrative in the Alps, or the burning down of his house or something similarly sensational and requiring accordingly. After being long subject of such merry jests he decided to solve the mystery by using a typewriter—London Chronicle.

An Embarrassing Moment.

Sir Edward Channon lately told this anecdote to "Bar, Bat and Bit." He was a debutante, very shy, and her old host, who was about to carve a sirloin of beef, turned to her and said, "Lady Anne, will you have upper or under?" Lady Cowper said to him that she had not the least idea what he meant, so to a weak moment she looked "upper." Whereupon the host turned to the butler and said in a loud voice, "Take it away and turn it." Young ladies get a great deal of trouble over this.

One Letter Names.

Names with only one letter have been bestowed on places as well as persons. There is a village called 'N' in Normandy, not far from Argentan. Two Chinese towns are named respectively 'Y' and 'F'. There is a river 'Y' in Holland, and one of the rivers of the Zinder Zee bears the same brief name. France has a river and swollen a lake of the name of 'A'.

Only Her Litest.

"What is your suit, please, madam?" inquired the clerk, deferentially.

"My first name," corrected the clerk, "is 'Miss'—who is a clever girl." "My first name," corrected the clerk, "is 'Miss'—who is a clever girl." "My first name," corrected the clerk, "is 'Miss'—who is a clever girl."

"I am and you never bought a cent, but what you do if it be hard language, please?"

"Yes, yes, please," said the clerk, "I am and you never bought a cent, but what you do if it be hard

language, please?"

"Yes, yes, please," said the clerk, "I am and you never bought a cent, but what you do if it be hard

language, please?"

"Yes, yes, please," said the clerk, "I am and you never bought a cent, but what you do if it be hard

language, please?"

"Yes, yes, please," said the clerk, "I am and you never bought a cent, but what you do if it be hard language, please?"

THEY DON'T WASTE WORDS.

Nyasaland Native Bait in a State of Partial Calm.

Referring to the native peculiarities of Nyasaland, the editor of "Hunting the Elephant in Africa," Captain G. E. Sigurd, comments on a certain state of mind into which the natives fall when there is no active work for them to do, or at least when there is no compensation to do it. He believes that the native is capable of assuming a state of mind in which he is absolutely detached and not working and when in such a state he is only recalled by a start to his present surroundings.

"The life of the head man of a village in Nyasaland, when not engaged in the strenuous pursuit of his official duties, is something like this: At sunrise he crawls out of his hut and sits outside. After a short time his wife crawls out and offers him some food. He eats this and then makes his way to a tree, perhaps a hundred yards from the village. Under this he sits in deep abstraction, till about noon a child brings him some food and water. After partaking of this he moves a little so as to get the afternoon sun. He then sits in deep meditation until sunset, when he crawls into his hut and goes to sleep.

Sometimes he is joined by a few other old men under the tree. They never speak to each other, and if they say anything it is to make some obvious remark, such as 'It is a dog' or 'It is a dog.' "Oh," "Ah," and a further period of silence."

MADE HIMSELF AT HOME.

When He Got Through His Standing Was Unquestioned.

Robert Thorpe, an old Missouri stage driver used to tell a story of how he dethroned the jayhawker, got one of his recruits. The Anderson boys held up Thorpe's stage near Glasgow one day. Among the passengers was a raw-boned young Missourian who looked about as tough as the jayhawkers themselves.

"Give me yer val'ble," Anderson demanded of the youth, as he went down the line.

"Ain't got none," answered the young squirrel hunter.

"How 'bout yer gun?"

"To 'lo Anderson's jayhawkers."

The leader said him up a bit.

"Kin ye even the Missoury?"

he asked him.

"Reckon so," the young man answered.

"Could ye kill a man?"

"Reckon so," the young man answered.

Anderson stepped forward and spat to the youngster's face. The youth jumped at the jayhawker like a cat, caught him full in the face with a right swing and went down on top of him, kicking and kicking.

The jayhawkers pulled the young demon off their leader, and he got up.

"You belong," he said. "Boys, give him a hawse!"—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Recognition Comes Slowly.

The late Alfred Russel Wallace,

the collaborator with Darwin of evolution, died in London at age 81, first,

said a physiologist.

"Four Dr. Wallace had in fact such a very hard row to hoe that he could afford to marry only when he was sixty-three, to a married woman he married a young girl of eighteen by whom he had a son and a daughter.

"He collaborated in London last summer with Dr. Wallace.

"It was too bad," I once said to him.

"I am glad you said that," he responded, "I was so poor and so crumpled with poverty till past middle life; it was too bad."

"My friend Dr. Wallace replied,

Judicial Sale of Farm Lands Near Claresholm, Alberta

Pursuant to Judgement and Final Order for Sale there will be offered for sale in front of the Post Office in the Town of Claresholm, in the Province of Alberta, subject to the conditions and reservations expressed in the original Grant from the Crown, with the approbation of a Judge or Master of the Supreme Court of Alberta, Judicial District of Edmonton by R. S. Goady, of the Town of Claresholm, in the Province of Alberta, Auctioneer, on Saturday, the 16th day of May, A.D. 1914, at the hour of 12 o'clock noon, the South West Quarter of Section Thirty (30), Township Eleven (11), Range Twenty-four (24) west of the Fourth Meridian, in the Province of Alberta.

The Vendor is informed that the land is situated about Two Miles from the new C.N.R. line Calgary to Macleod; Four miles from One-half mile to school house. The soil is chocolate loam with clay subsoil. About One Hundred and Forty acres have been cultivated; Twenty acres used for pasture; this is low land where buildings stand; the balance is sloping south and west; no hills. Eighty to One Hundred acres have been used last season. The fences are falling down. There is a house 12x14; shanty roof; shaggy; drop siding out and ship lap inside; has been papered. There is a barn 14x28, built of 2x6 and drop siding; no roof. There is a well on the property about 40 feet deep seemingly plenty of water; no well house.

The sale is subject to a reserve Bid which has been filed by the Master. Terms: Ten per cent of the purchase money is to be paid at the time of the sale and the balance is to be paid in full at Court within sixty days without interest to the credit of this action.

In other respects the terms and conditions of sale will be the standing conditions of sale of the Supreme Court of Alberta, as approved by the Master.

For further particulars apply to Messrs. Emery, Newell, Print, Bolton and Mount, Solicitors, Edmonton, Alberta.

Dated the 7th day of April, A.D. 1914.

Alex Taylor
Clerk of the Supreme Court.

MADE GOOD MONEY IN MIXED FARMING

Now a Better Near Prince Albert
Has Increased His Capital Twelve
Times in Six Year

"The Canadian Countryman" reprints a letter from the "School Farmer," which was written by an old countryman who settled in the Prince Albert district in the fall of 1908 with about $400 in his possession.

"I was fortunate enough," said the farmer in question, "to secure a good quarter section, and after three years residence my small capital has increased to about $5,000 in land, buildings, stock and implements. This is just one among a multitude of other successes.

The country around is virtually a poor man's paradise, as the poor man is able to become comparatively rich, or the rich man richer. If I had possessed $2,500 when I came, instead of $400, I could have been worth $12,500 now.

"What makes this district so desirable for settlers is that it is adapted to mixed farming, which is really the only kind of farming that can be depended upon as a permanent source of revenue. The country's best advantage is manifested in those who sell their holdings at a low price and move here for more imaginary prairie lands; far off that they find are only a mirage when they get there. The advertising part is seen when such people return here and have to begin again, bewailing all the time their loss through leaving here and lamenting their wasted years of toil.

"There are some people who very easily become discouraged and fail. The country cannot, of course, please that sort of person, and success does not await anyone who comes to seek a life of ease and luxury. What Prince Albert and the surrounding district needs is capital to establish home industries and develop the vast resources of the country, and men with willing hands and arms to populate the outlying regions awaiting those funds of home-made money."

The writer of this letter, Mr. W. W. Carrier, appreciates the fact that the farmers' best market is the home market. Only by the building up of industrial enterprises in convenient centres in the West will the Western country secure that well-rounded development which is essential to a broad measure of success, and which will enable it to avoid the problems of unemployment which most Western communities have faced this winter.

Two or three factories in a town can absorb in the winter time most of the floating population, which is busy on the farms in the surrounding district in the summer time. Thus do farm and factory work together to mutual advantage.

HOW TO FEED FACTORIES

Mixed Farming Development Near Edmonton Insures Plentiful Food Supplies

In reviewing the annual address of President Cooper of the Edmonton Board of Trade, the "Monetary Times" calls attention to the fact that Edmonton has a splendid tributary territory so that its factories, warehouses and railroads, are sure of having good business.

Dealing with suggestions that more active efforts should be made to encourage new industries to come to the city, Mr. Cooper said first he would like to see the steady-flow factories and industrial enterprises already there, operating to full capacity and increasing that capacity; a practical suggestion. To double the output of existing factories is preferable to doubling the number of industries. He felt that work such as that done by the Central Alberta Development League designed to promote agricultural development in the tributary territory, should be vigorously continued, and the attention of outside agriculturalists drawn in every possible way to the fact that between the Red Deer and the Athabasca rivers lies probably the best mixed farming country on this continent, and that there is today, and as far in the future as can be seen, a ready market at high prices for almost unlimited amounts of all classes of farm products other than grain. At present it is estimated that less than five per cent of the good, tilable land in the rich territory referred to is in use.

It is the production of the surplus food that is the sure way to increase the output of Edmonton factories. That is a principle which Toronto and other Ontario cities would do well to recognize in regard to Northern Ontario.

As the industrial development which will provide adequate food supplies for a conveniently situated urban population is the best foundation for the industrial development which Edmonton and other cities will experience in the next few years under existing local conditions.

Coming of Spring in Alberta

Spring has come. The Alberta winter season is not an unpleasant one, but it has an unfortunate habit of lingering through part of March, seeming to depart and then returning for a farewell spring in April. This year the snow was not so deep in the latter March and earlier April, because the moisture was needed. But now we are through with it again and spring is really here. The crocuses are peeping out on the hills, the frogs are singing in the sloughs, and the ice has left the rivers. Spring has really come.

It is difficult to decide when Alberta is at its very best. Sometimes the gentle autumn seems the best of all. But the winter, with its variety of storm and sunshine is not unwelcome to vigorous men. The summer is delightful and the springtime is beautiful.

Altogether the Alberta climate is very enjoyable. Speaking more practically, the outlook in the country is very favorable. Everything points to a bright, happy and gay. The Alberta climate laughs at commercial stringencies.

Sugar Kills Microbes

Gallen, the "father of the medical science," stated great importance in the antiseptic properties of sugar. He discovered that sugar, when used in the treatment of wounds, thus prevents the additional spread of the bacteria, and that there is nothing new under the sun.

As a result of a number of experiments, he has recently prepared a solution of sugar in one of the best disinfectants and sterilizers that can be found. The use of sugar as a preservative of liquids, especially of milk, is commonly known, but very few people were aware of the fact that it is a powerful microbe-killer.

A Young Man's Best Capital

The best capital, in nine cases out of ten, a young man can start in the world with, is, in most health, sound morals, a fair intelligence, a will to work his way honestly, bravely and if it be possible, a trade whether he follows it for a livelihood or not. He can always fall back on a trade when other paths are closed. The path of success in business is invariably the path of common sense. Notwithstanding all that is said about "rags to riches" the best kind of success in every man's life is not that which comes by accident. The only good time coming we are justified in hoping is that which we are capable of making for ourselves.

Report of the Seed Commissioner

The report of the seed Commissioner of the Department of Agriculture for Canada for the period from March 1911, to August 31, 1913, has been printed. It concludes at this date because the annual meeting of seed and seed inspection commences on the first of September.

The report is divided under the three main heads of Seed Growing, Seed Testing and Inspection and there are again subdivided in such a manner as to render their report of great interest and value to seed growers and other interested in good and pure seed.

Referring to Alfalfa—a crop of great and growing importance in Canada—the report says:—

"Of the 353 samples of seed tested in Ontario last season, probably more than half a dozen were of Canadian origin, while more than one-third of the total number contained weed seeds which occur only in Alfalfa produced in Europe. The remainder originated in the western and middle western states, most of them probably in Montana and Utah. Very little Alfalfa seed is produced in Wisconsin and in Minnesota and practically none of it is to be had in Canada."

Referring to the influence of frost on immature cuts it is stated that two degrees above in the milk stage will, in most cases, ruin cuts for seed even though the heads may fill and give of a heavy bushel weight.

This report, which constitutes a concise summary of the work of the Seed Branch for the period indicated, is available to all who apply for it to the Publication Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa.

Football Clareasholm vs. Nanton

On Good Friday, Nanton football team, visited Clareasholm for an exhibition game. The home team were the winners by one, the score being two to one. The game was exceptionally fast from start to finish, although inclined to be rough at times. Corbett was a bad kick in the face, Scotty got a sprained ankle and two or three on the Nanton team received scratches that will remain for a day or so. The combination on a whole was very poor on both sides, of course it was just the first game of the season.

The lineup was as follows.

NANTON

Goal—Folkard.
Backs—Hurst, Mackie.
1 Back—Stinson, Marshall, Watt.
Forwards—Marshall, Ed, Anderson, Blake.

CLAREASHOLM

Goal—Sherrill.
Backs—Corbett, Watt, Bateman.
1 Backs—Buchingham, S. Bryan, Ritchard.
Forwards—Callaghan, Cannon, Lint, n. Moorehead, Corp. Moorhead.

Granum Dance

On Wednesday evening a quiet little hop was held in the Granum Opera House. Quite a large and select crowd turned out and a most enjoyable time was had by all. There were several visitors from Clareasholm, Staveland, Woodhouse and Macleod, and were all made very welcome by the young people of Granum. At midnight a lovely supper was served which lasted half an hour and then the dance continued until nearly three a.m. The music was furnished by the Staveland Orchestra which gave the very best satisfaction.

Important Notice for Farmers and Gardeners of Southern Alberta

The Committee on Rural Relations of the Lethbridge Board of Trade has accepted the offer of the Dominion Experimental Farm to supply farmers and gardeners in this vicinity with a select variety of seed potatoes. It is the policy of the Committee to develop a potato which may be known and sold on the market under the Lethbridge trade mark. The southern portion of Alberta is especially adapted to growing the potato. For several years the Experimental Farm has been developing and acclimatizing a tuber for this locality. Beginning with the variety known as Gold Coin the seed potatoes have for several years been treated for such other diseases which affect the potato crop until the supply of seed potatoes now offered to the growers may be said to be pure and A 1 in every respect. Furthermore these potatoes have been grown in such a manner as to develop uniform size and quality with due regard to the requirement of a critical market.

Farmers and gardeners receiving these sample potatoes are required to plant and cultivate them as directed and to report results after the crop is taken, in a form which will be furnished by the Experimental Farm. While the supply lasts these seed potatoes to the amount of three pounds each will be supplied at any Post Office in Southern Alberta by Parcel Post free of charge to growers applying for the same. This amount of seed will be sufficient to plant a row of about 75 feet which should grow a sufficient quantity of seed potatoes for a considerable field for the year 1915. Any farmer or gardener desiring to try out these potatoes is invited to at once send his name and address on a postal card addressed: Lethbridge Board of Trade, Lethbridge Alberta.

It is the intention of the Committee on Rural Relations to survey the Potato Market conditions and to be prepared to popularize the Lethbridge Potato in the market next year. Who will be the first to send for seed potatoes?

Quality in Steers

Quality in a beef animal is indicated by the following points: Fine, soft hair; loose, pliable skin of medium thickness; dense, clean bone of medium size. The possession of quality does not always mean that the steer is better, because the quality of the meat is not always in proportion to the quality of the animal. It is a marked effect upon the value of the steer after being fattened. Exceptionally vigorous, rough, coarse steers often fatten quickly, but the steers that have quality, but are delicate and dainty eaters. For the reasons above mentioned the steer with good quality usually proves the more profitable.

Keep the Mature Sows

The way some farmers have of selling all their large, mature sows and keeping young things that have not developed from which to raise pigs is a costly error that brings them to have to manage an otherwise successful breeder. Look to it that the mature sows which show large litters and prove themselves to be careful mothers, with full udders, are kept to repeat their good performance. Breeding girls, picked each year from the litters of well matured sows, become stronger with succeeding generations and are increasingly able to farrow and bring up large litters of thirty pigs.

COW TESTING PAYS

There can be no question as to the bright light shed by dairy records on the actual performance of herds and of individual cows. They are useful aids in proving the superiority of certain cows as well as the effect of good dairy practices.

For instance, records show that in one month a seven year old cow gave 1,430 pounds of milk, but another seven years in the same herd gave only 400 pounds. Again it is found that 22 cows averaged 1,197 pounds of milk in a month, while another lot of 22 averaged only 545 pounds of milk. Cows that are kept as dairy cows, fed and bred for production of milk and fat, are proved by their records. Even from amongst those so kept, selection is necessary, otherwise the herd will fall off in its average. But the individual records, so easily kept, will point definitely to those which are worth keeping.

The value of a pure bred dairy sire is also revealed when comparing herds. One herd of 14 cows gave 300 pounds of fat in a month. In an adjoining herd of 14, where cow testing has been carried on for four years and where the sire is pure bred, the yield was 500 pounds of fat, in other words the income was seventy five dollars more for that one month.

Be sure you take up cow testing this year, because it pays well.

Baseball

On Good Friday morning the school team from Granum visited Clareasholm and played the school team here. The game was exceptionally fast from start to finish. At the end of the ninth inning the home side was ahead at the end of the tenth it was still a tie 10-10. The captain of Granum team refused to play longer. The local boys expect to go to Granum on Friday next to play the return game. The betting is even.
